Exhibiting at the Hiscock Gallery

The Hiscock Gallery in Stanley Street, Southsea, PO5 2DS has just taken on eight of my 'seascape' pictures to sell.

They have a prime position in the window right by the front door! I felt like a naughty school kid again when I took this photo, but hopefully they didn't see me :-> and fingers crossed my pictures sell quickly.

All are also available to order from my web site: www.artsplaza.com

What's happening!!

- Seascapes at the Hiscock Gallery until end of June.
- Art on the Pier event 3rd & 4th July, Southsea.
- Celeste annual art competition now underway.
- Cloth paper, scissors Artisan competition.
- Now on line with the Saatchi Gallery.

Art on the Pier on the 3rd & 4th July

I will be exhibiting at the Art on the Pier, South Parade Pier, Southern Esplanade, Southsea. Free entry with lots of Arts and Crafts by local artists to browse and buy.

10% of all sales at this event will be donated to MOSAIC a Dorset based charity that offers support to bereaved children, young people, parents and carers.

Celeste Annual Art Competition

Deviating from the more commercial side of my art, I have entered some of my more wacky pictures to the annual Celeste prize. A sculpture: The Dancers (pictured right) and Watching (below right).

Atoms and Beer have also been entered for their exhibitions in Berlin & New York called 'Expectations'. <http://www.celesteprize.com/janegalloway>

My motto for the moment:

"Life is not a dress rehearsal and it's about time I started living the life I really want".

Hence this newsletter folks!

Cloth Paper Scissors – Artisan Search 2010

Every issue of Cloth Paper Scissors has amazing 'mixed media' art submitted by their talented readers.

The Artisan Search will chose one winner from five categories.
